

SIDCER
Globalizing Ethics for Health Research

International Course on Responsible Research

Thammasat University (Rangsit Campus)
Pathumthani, Thailand
21-22 August 2014

Course introduction

Thammasat University (TU) takes seriously the challenges of ensuring that all postgraduate students and researchers conducting research in TU demonstrate responsible conduct in research. This training course addresses the topics of good research practice, standards for development of protocol, data management, and publication of research results. The training will provide students with a high standard for achieving excellence in research across all fields and disciplines.

Course goal: To assist researchers in developing their skills in applying principles of universal standards towards responsible research.

Course objective: To enable the researchers perform their research in accordance with national and international standards in health research.

Course outcome: Researchers will apply principles of responsible research into their research practices.

Course participants: M.Sc. & PhD students and health researchers.

Course language: English.

Course organizers

Prof. Dr. Kesara Na-Bangchang
Director, Graduate Studies
Chulabhorn International College of Medicine (CICM)
Thammasat University (Rangsit Campus), Pathumthani, Thailand
kesaratmu@yahoo.com | Tel: (+66) 02-5644440 ext 1800

Prof. Dr. Juntra Karbwang-Laothavorn
Head, Product Research and Development
Institute of Tropical Medicine (NEKKEN)
Nagasaki University, Nagasaki, Japan
karbwangj@nagasaki-u.ac.jp | Tel: (+66) 02-5644440 ext 1800

Course venue and accommodation

WHO-TDR Clinical Coordination and Training Center (CCTC), 1st Floor Academic Affairs Building (formerly Executive Office of Universiade, near SME)
Thammasat University (Rangsit Campus), Pathumthani, Thailand

Course fees:

Foreign Participants:

400 USD (includes course materials, coffee/tea breaks, lunch, and accommodation in the university campus during the training period).

Thai Participants:

4,000 THB (includes course materials, coffee/tea breaks, and lunch during the training period) [discount is available for Thammasat University faculty and staff].

Course outline:

First Day

08:30 Registration of the participants

09:00 Welcome address

Assoc. Prof. Dr. Kammal Kumar Pawa

Dean, Chulabhorn International College of Medicine

09:05 Introduction to responsible research

Prof. Dr. Juntra Karbwang-Laothavorn

Head, Product Research and Development, Nagasaki University

Initiation of the research

10:00 Guidelines on good research practice, ethics, and regulations

Prof. Dr. Juntra Karbwang-Laothavorn

10:30 Responsible protocol writing

Prof. Dr. Juntra Karbwang-Laothavorn

11:00 Coffee/Tea break

11:15 Planning and setting-up of experiment/research

Prof. Dr. Juntra Karbwang-Laothavorn

12:00 Lunch

13:00 Case Study 1: Group work on responsible protocol writing and planning research

16:00 Case Study 1: Group presentation and discussion

17:00 End of day one

Second Day

Conducting research

- 09:00 Good data management practice & Quality data management
Prof. Dr. Kesara Na-Bangchang, Director, Graduate Studies, CICM, TU
- 09:30 Data analysis and interpretation
Prof. Dr. Kesara Na-Bangchang
- 10:00 Coffee/Tea break
- 10:30 Case study 2: Work group on conducting research
- 11:30 Case study 2: Group presentation and discussion
- 12:00 Lunch

Report and publication

- 13:00 Considerations for report, publication, and peer review
Prof. Dr. Juntra Karbwang-Laothavorn
- 13:30 Ethical issues in report and publication
Mr. Arthur Navarro, Research Fellow, FERCAP
- 14:00 Coffee/Tea break
- 14:30 Case study 3: Work group on report, publication, and peer review
- 16:00 Case study 3: Group presentation and discussion
- 16:30 End of the course